EXPRESSED DESIRE PRESIDENT HOOVER TO HAVE MATTER SIFTED

WASHINGTON, Sept. 12. (AP)—A sub-committee of three members headed by Senator Shortridge, republican, California, was appointed today by the senate naval committee to inquire into the activities of American shipbuilding corporations at the unsuccessful 1927 Geneva naval limitations conference.

Senator Robinson of Arkansas, democratic leader, and Senator Allen, republican, Kansas, are the other members of the sub-committee which will meet later to determine its program for open hearings.

Names of the members were announced by Chairman Hale of the naval committee which earlier at an executive meeting had decided to turn the inquiry over to a sub-committee.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 12. (AP)—The senate naval committee today turned over its inquiry into the activities of American shipbuilding corporations at the Geneva naval limitations conference of 1927 to a sub-committee which is to conduct open hearings beginning probably on Monday.

FOUR WITNESSES REMAIN FOR STATE IN PANTAGES CASE

DEFENSE ATTORNEY CHARGES PROSECUTION NOT ACTING IN GOOD FAITH

LOS ANGELES, Sept. 12. (AP)—Four persons, two of them described as able to give surprise testimony, today remained on the list of prosecution witnesses in the trial of Mrs. Alexander Pantages on charges of second degree murder growing out of the slaying of Juror Rokumoto after an accident involving Mrs. Pantages' car.

A verbal clash among the attorneys which required intervention of Superior Judge Carlos Hardy, enveloped proceedings yesterday.

Attorney W. I. Gilbert, for the defense, protested the prosecution was not acting in good faith in refusing to give surprise testimony on the stand to testify that Mrs. Pantages was intoxicated at the time her limousine crashed into a small car driven by Rokumoto. Gilbert jumped to his feet after four policemen and two eyewitnesses had testified at Mrs. Pantages' condition and shouted:

"If the state is acting in good faith why don't they bring in physicians and surgeons who treated her to testify concerning her condition?"

When Gilbert's remarks were taken as an "insultation" by the prosecution counsel the attorney declared: "It is not an insultation. I make the bold statement—I do not believe you intend to bring in any physician or surgeon who can testify she was drunk."

Prosecution attorneys then indicated they later would call expert witnesses to testify as to Mrs. Pantages' condition.

The testimony which resulted in the exchanges started when Mrs. Dorothy S. Clarke testified Mrs. Pantages' eyes "were droopy, half closed and rather glassy" immediately after the accident and that in her opinion the woman was intoxicated.

Police Officer Thomas M. Malone testified Mrs. Pantages "knocked my hat off twice while I was trying to place her in an ambulance. I would say she was drunk."

State Witness Gives Damaging Gun Testimony

TULSA, Okla., Sept. 12. (AP)—Alice Andrews, pretty 20-year-old stenographer, today identified a revolver found near the slaying of Robert Hatcher of Webb City, Mo., her sweetheart, as one she previously had seen in the pocket of an automobile belonging to her employer, B. O. Shepherd, on preliminary trial for the murder of Hatcher.

Miss Andrews was the star state witness.

Hundreds of curious spectators crowded the courtroom of Judge Williams, pleas judge, for the hearing.

Hatcher and Shepherd had had a quarrel in the latter's real estate office here before Hatcher was killed, over attentions Hatcher claimed Shepherd had been paying to Miss Andrews, the stenographer testified.

Miss Andrews has told that her employer paid a part of the rent on her apartment.

Collidge Love Nest Approved By Two Mothers

NEW HAVEN, Sept. 12. (AP)—The four-room apartment which John Collidge will occupy with his bride has the approval of his mother.

"I am pleased with it," she remarked.

After inspection of the $78-a-month apartment the two mothers and the young lady who will become Mrs. Collidge on Sept. 23, went to a furniture store and looked at various pieces that might be suitable for the apartment.

Mrs. Collidge has been visiting the governor's home at Plainville since Tuesday. She motored to New Haven from Plainville with Mrs. and Miss Trumbull. Last night she left by train for her home in Northampton.

ARRESTS FOLLOW PROBE OF ALLEGED POLICE SHAKEDOWN RING BY LOS ANGELES JURY

LOS ANGELES, Sept. 12. (AP)—Two police sergeants and a patrolman were under arrest, nine warrants were waiting to be served and another was withheld here today as the result of a grand jury investigation of charges that a "shakedown ring" composed of police officers had collected thousands of dollars in bribes from one Los Angeles bootlegger in five years.

The investigation was undertaken ten days ago by District Attorney Burone Fitts, upon information furnished by J. B. Westman, alias Harry D. MacDonald, confessed bootlegger and police "payoff man."

Sergeants Henry M. Hill and Leonard S. Sals and Patrolman Thomas B. Washburn, of the vice detail, were arrested last night. Washburn later was released on $10,000 bond.

At least three other officers were indicted, one of them a former police captain. Their names were not divulged, but it was understood they would surrender today.

Westman was under special guard of two deputy sheriffs in the Los Angeles county jail last night, and an armed squad of deputies was thrown about his home in Whittier, Calif., during the night.

After Frank Dewar, chief of the sheriff's criminal investigation detail, had received a report that three men in an automobile, armed with machine guns, had been seen twice in the downtown district.

Westman, when arrested ten days ago, confessed to bootlegging activity over a period of six years, during which time his business totaled, he said, more than half a million dollars. He told District Attorney Fitts he was "sick and tired" of being "shakedown" by the police.

GREAT BRITAIN TAKES NEW STEPS TOWARD RESUMPTION OF RELATIONS WITH RUSSIA

LONDON, Sept. 12. (AP)—Great Britain today took new steps toward resuming commercial and diplomatic relations with Soviet Russia. The British government sent to the Norwegian government for transmission to the Russian government a note expressing the view that the time had come when it would be desirable to resume the conversations interrupted several months ago by the departure of the Soviet plenipotentiary, Dovgalevsky.

Mr. Henderson and Ambassador Dovgalevsky of Paris began preliminary conversations for resumption of trade and commercial relations and renewal of diplomatic service on July 23.

The note reached a deadlock on Aug. 1, when Great Britain refused to accede to the Russian desire for immediate appointment of ambassadors before questions in dispute between the two countries.

The question has been in abeyance since then. A note handed by Mr. Dovgalevsky to Mr. Henderson said that the Russian government had decided to resume diplomatic service was impossible showed the British government was unwilling or unable to agree to the restoration of normal relations between the two countries.

The note added Russia would have to devote special new consideration to the question and that the commissariat for foreign affairs would apply to the question and that the commissariat for foreign affairs would apply for instructions to the central executive committee of the U. S. F. Nothing has been heard on the Russian side since.

GARDNER MURDERS WEALTHY WOMAN AS RESULT DISCHARGE

HEIRESS TO DIEBOLT BREWERY MILLIONS SLAIN BY DISCHARGED WORKER

CLEVELAND, Ohio, Sept. 12. (AP)—Mrs. Barbara Diebolt Irr, 62, heiress of the Diebolt brewing fortune, was shot and killed at her Euclid Village home today by a gardener angered because he had been dismissed, police said.

Michael Di Tiro, the gardener, walked into the village police station shortly after the killing and admitted shooting the aged woman. He said he had been employed at the home for 17 years prior to his dismissal two weeks ago. Servants said he became disgruntled at his discharge.

Di Tiro said he went to the home today, found Mrs. Irr seated at a kitchen table and asked for his job again. The woman threatened to call police to remove him. He then shot her.

Mrs. Irr was the wife of Joseph Irr, of the Cleveland Billiard Supply House. She was a member of the Diebolt family which long owned the Diebolt Brewing company.

RALEIGH, N. C., Sept. 12. (AP)—Willis Buckner, 32, white man, was electrocuted at the state prison here today for attacking a young girl several months ago. He was pronounced dead at 10:30 o'clock.

The condemned had maintained his innocence throughout the trial and up to this morning. After the execution officials announced he had confessed to the Rev. J. B. Turner a few minutes before being led to the execution chamber.

Pollard Postpones Announcement of His Plans For Future

AUSTIN, Sept. 12. (AP)—Attorney General Claude Pollard today postponed until tomorrow issuance of a formal statement setting forth his plans for the future.

It is understood he intends to retire from public office effective Monday, and become general attorney for Texas railroads. A suite of offices in a downtown building has been reserved for him, his name "has been" on the doors and a stenographer there said General Pollard would move in Monday.

TEAR GAS BOMBS USED TO DISPERSE NEW ORLEANS CROWD

MAYOR WAS VICTIM POLICE ACT FOLLOWING DYNAMITING OF STREET CAR

NEW ORLEANS, Sept. 12. (AP)—Use of tear gas bombs by police and a United States deputy marshal in dispersing a crowd at the scene of a street car dynamited last night three hours after the local car men's union rejected a tentative strike settlement today brought sharp criticism from acting Mayor T. S. Walmesley, a victim of the gas.

"The bombing was outrageous, and under no condition will we tolerate such affairs," he declared, action also continued notice of "but I consider the conduct of the United States marshal and the police just as reprehensible in throwing tear gas bombs into the crowd. One landed within two or three feet of me. I saw one thrown at the feet of a woman with a baby in her arms."

None Injured By Dynamite
The crowd, including the mayor, was attracted to the scene as the members left a neighborhood political meeting seeking city drainage relief from rains. The dynamite cracked a car wheel, but the crowd and passengers, including the mayor, were uninjured. Police threw gas bombs when bricks hurled from the crowd smashed in the windows.

Four sticks of dynamite were discovered on the Tulane belt tracks three hours later by Motorman U. S. Langston, who stopped his car in time to avert an explosion.

With the help of inspectors of public service declaring it would complete its organization by filling 400 positions previously held open pending settlement of the strike, the city was faced with an indefinite traction strike called July 2.

Governor Moody Is Superstitious Says Secretary

AUSTIN, Sept. 12. (AP)—Governor Moody is superstitious. Two weeks ago he issued a stay of execution to Jesse Charles, a county negro sentenced to death.

He announced the reprieve would be for two weeks, but later when the date was determined as Friday, the 18th, he increased the stay to the 14th.

Governor Moody would not direct that any undertaking be set for Friday the 18th, said Mark Winston, one of the governor's secretaries.

HEAVILY AGAINST PLAN

During balloting yesterday, the carmen stood 100 to 87 against accepting the agreement reached by William Green, president of the American Federation of Labor, and the New Orleans carmen union, and approved by W. D. Mahon, president of the International Carmen's Union.

When terms were announced in New York, union men generally were favorable toward acceptance, although they disliked the lack of compulsory membership in the union of the employees. The board of directors of the union had accepted the agreement, and members of the union were called upon to express themselves in secret ballot.

Edwin Peyroux, president of the local union, said the carmen have accepted the New York terms if the Public Service had been specific about provisions to take the old employees back "as rapidly as conditions will permit."

MUSSOLINI GIVES UP SEVEN OF EIGHT CABINET POSITIONS RETAINS INTERIOR PORTFOLIO

ROME, Sept. 12. (AP)—Benito Mussolini, Italian dictator, today relinquished seven of the eight cabinet posts he held in the Italian fascist government. He remains premier and minister of the interior.

A royal decree announcing the action also contained notice of replacement of two other ministers: those of public instruction and of national economy.

The undersecretary for the interior ministry, which portfolio the Duke retained, also was changed in the move, which comprised probably the most sweeping reorganization of the fascist government since its inception.

The cabinet officials taking the posts held by Signor Mussolini are: Dino Grandi, minister of foreign affairs; formerly undersecretary for foreign affairs.

General Pietro Gozzera, minister of war; formerly undersecretary for war.

Admiral Giuseppe Siriani, minister of marine; formerly undersecretary for marine.

General Italo Balbo, minister of aviation; former undersecretary for aviation.

Michèle Bianchi, minister of public works.

Giuseppe Bottai, minister of corporations; formerly was undersecretary in that ministry.

The same royal decree announced the ministry of public instruction henceforth will be known as the ministry of national education, and that the ministry of national economy will be known as the ministry of agriculture and forests.

Professor Peputy Giuliano Galbino will become minister of national education, replacing Signor Giuseppe Beluzzi, who held the old ministry.

"Deputy Giacomo Acerbo will become minister of agriculture and forestry replacing Signor Martelli, former minister of national economy."

GERMAN POLITICAL LEADER SUPPORTING NEW CONFEDERATION

GENEVA, Sept. 12. (AP)—Germany's ideas regarding the reorganization of Europe, known as the "United States" plan, were outlined before the economic committee of the League of Nations today by Dr. Rudolf Breitscheid, leader of the social democratic, largest German political party.

Enlarging upon the views of Foreign Minister Stresemann which already indicated German support for a "United States" plan, Dr. Breitscheid said the German spokesman announced his support of a tariff "truce" throughout the continent. He favored a three year period during which existing tariff levels would not be raised, rather than the two years as suggested by British and Belgian spokesmen.

Dr. Breitscheid said Germany would be glad to see the abolition of passport visas throughout Europe.

DEATH CONGRESSMAN KVALE ACCIDENTAL AUTHORITIES STATE

FUNERAL SERVICES FOR CONGRESSMAN BURNED DEATH BE HELD SUNDAY

FERGUS FALLS, Minn., Sept. 12. (AP)—Death of Congressman O. J. Kvale, 60, of the seventh Minnesota district, was accidental, the county authorities said today. No inquest will be held.

Mr. Kvale's charred body was found in the ruins of his cottage near Battle Lake, Minn., yesterday. The cottage has been destroyed by fire, believed to have started by the explosion of a gasoline lamp.

The body was brought here last night and funeral services will be held Sunday at his home at Benson.

Dr. I. T. Kvale of Willmar, a son, said his father had suffered from insomnia and probably had taken a sleeping potion before retiring Tuesday night. He probably was in a deep sleep when the lamp exploded.

Five other sons and a daughter survive Mr. Kvale.

Mr. Kvale won his seat in 1922 by defeating the author of the prohibition enforcement act, Andrew J. Volstead.

American He-Man Is Secretly Very Fond of Perfumes

CHICAGO, Sept. 12. (AP)—The National Barber and Beauty Supply Men's association today announced today the American he-man is secretly very fond of perfume.

Lilaie is the scent that sends men on his face and his hair. Its popularity, the association agreed, is based on its reputation as being "manly."

The gentle scent of violet is in bad odor with males, the barbers said, classifying it as "too dainty." But rose in hair tonic goes over big. Men-about-town, whatever they are, have a leaning toward Jasmint; and ordinary fellows, untutored in the art of personal perfuming, prefer the potpourri of scents provided by bouquet.

COMMUTATION FOR CONDEMNED NEGRO SOUGHT FROM MOODY

AUSTIN, Sept. 11. (AP)—Governor Dan Moody will act before tomorrow night on the recommendation of the board of pardons to commute the death sentence of Jesse Charles, negro, whose execution date is set for Saturday.

Charles was convicted of the murder of Winifred Knipple, white, at Devers.

He is now on his second stay of execution, the last one having been granted on August 30 for a period of 15 days.

Those who have asked the governor to commute the sentence have presented affidavits which show doubt Charles committed the crime. It was suggested that the state's principal witnesses had repudiated his testimony.

To Make Clemency Plea

LIBERTY, Sept. 12. (AP)—Hoping to save Jesse Charles, negro, from electrocution through the asserted deathbed confession of another to the killing of which Charles was convicted, the negro's attorneys prepared to go to Austin today and present another clemency plea to Governor Moody.

Charles already has been reprieved twice. Six members of the trial jury and the county attorney are among those who have recommended commutation of the sentence, opposed by the district attorney and sheriff's department.

Counsel will contend that Rufus Smith, negro, star prosecution witness in the last act of his life absolved Charles of blame in the murder of Winifred Knipple, a white man.

TRIAL OF YOUNG UNIVERSITY CO-ED DELAYED THURSDAY

ENTIRE LIFE OF REBECCA BRADLEY ROGERS TO BE LAID BARE IN TRIAL

NEW BRAUNFELS, Sept. 12. (AP)—Three hours after Mrs. Rebecca Bradley Rogers held up the Farmers National Bank at Buda with a pistol and escaped with $1,000 in currency, C. L. Carson of Austin, chief teller for a telephone company, did not observe anything about the former University of Texas co-ed's demeanor that indicated she was of unsound mind, he testified at her trial here today.

The witness said Mrs. Rogers appeared calm and collected when she stepped to the counter in the Austin telephone office and paid three bills totaling $33.54 with currency of $5 denominations, none of which appeared to have been used.

The defense objected to a question asked by District Attorney Fred C. Blundell as to whether Mrs. Rogers appeared unbalanced mentally. Before Otis Rogers, chief of defense counsel and her band of the defendant, had time to remonstrate, Carson said the defendant appeared sane. Judge John Watson instructed the jury to disregard the remark.

The witness, who said he had seen Mrs. Rogers on several visits to the Attorney General's office where she was employed as a stenographer, testified that one of

HOOVER WILL NOT VISIT TEXAS NEXT MONTH CREAGER SAYS

WASHINGTON, Sept. 12. (AP)—B. C. Creager, Republican national committeeman for Texas, said today after a call at the White House, that President Hoover had informed him it probably would be impossible for him to visit Texas next month.

Creager said he regarded the statement as definitely closing the possibility that the president might extend his trip to Cincinnati and Louisville to include a visit into the Lone Star state.

However, he added, the president had expressed a determination to visit Texas during his administration.

Creager continued Mr. Hoover had explained because of the proposed visit of Premier MacDonald and the tariff deliberations in the senate, it would be impossible for him to be away from Washington for an extended period in October.

NINE OUTSTANDING OBJECTIONS VOICED IN OPENING DEBATE

SENATOR SIMMONS, DEMOCRAT, SAYS BILL WOULD ADD BILLIONS TO BURDEN

WASHINGTON, Sept. 12. (AP)—Nine "outstanding objections" to the pending tariff bill were enumerated in a speech in the senate today by Senator Simmons of North Carolina, who opened fire on the republican measure for the democrats by declaring it would add billions of dollars to the annual tax burden imposed upon the consuming masses.

Aliming his castigation not only at the administrative and special features of the bill but at proposed increased rates as well, the minority tariff leader gave the following reasons why he could not support it:

"It contains many rates and increases upon agricultural products that are useless and ineffective. It is replete with exorbitant rates on articles which farmers buy. It contains numerous instances of higher rates on articles used by the masses than on articles of identical use, but purchased principally by persons of wealth or of more than average means. It does not conform to President Hoover's request for increases on industrial products only when there has been a slackening of employment due to imports. In many cases increases have been proposed to industries which have been very prosperous under the present tariff act. It is full of inconsistencies and unfair discriminations. It increases rates on many articles even though the imports under the present tariff act have been in excess of domestic production. It encourages inefficiency by many of its increases in rates. Its excessive increases on many

Chairman to Name Committee.
Chairman Hale of the naval committee, who was authorized to name a sub-committee to conduct the inquiry, also gave the directions of the shipbuilding corporations named by Shearer would be called.

He expects to name the committee of investigation later today. It will be called together tomorrow for an organization meeting and under the present plan is to begin hearings Monday.

Senators from states in which the shipbuilding corporations involved, the Bethlehem Shipbuilding corporation, the New York Shipbuilding company, a subsidiary of the American Brown Boveri Electric corporation and the General Electric corporation, are located, asked to be excused from service on the investigating committee.

No Interference in Present Negotiation
WASHINGTON, Sept. 12.—(P)—Ready to carry out the expressed desire of President Hoover that charges of interference by large American shipbuilding corporations at the unsuccessful Geneva disarmament conference of 1927 be sifted "to the very bottom," the senate naval committee today devoted itself to formulating plans for its forthcoming investigation.

To determine what witnesses shall be heard and what procedure followed, an executive session of the committee was ordered by its chairman, Senator Hale of Maine.

Meanwhile, another inquiry, much broader in its scope, was being conducted by the department of justice at the specific direction of President Hoover, who, in ordering the Senate known his determination that the present disarmament negotiation with Great Britain shall not be frustrated by American shipbuilders monetarily interested in a limitation or reduction of naval construction.

It was expected the first witness to be called by the senate committee would be William E. Shearer, self-styled naval expert who attended the Geneva conference as the agent of the Bethlehem Shipbuilding corporation, the New York Shipbuilding company (a subsidiary of the American Brown Boveri Electric corporation) and the General Electric corporation) and the New York Shipbuilding and Dry Dock company.

Vare Case Shunted Aside For Tariff
WASHINGTON, Sept. 12.—(P)—With consideration of the three-year-old question of seating William E. Vare as senator from Pennsylvania postponed until December, the tariff bill today held undisputed right of way in the senate. By a vote of 41 to 34, the Vare case late yesterday was deferred until congress meets in regular session, so no time would be lost in getting into the tariff battle of the bill drawn up by the finance committee majority were open to debate, under an agreement which placed these ahead of the sections dealing specifically with rare scheduled tariff increases. When the Vare issue is brought before the senate on December 3, it is to be kept before the body until a vote is reached.

Simmons' Open Attack.
The opening assault of the opposition to the Republican measure was embodied in a lengthy address prepared for delivery by Senator Simmons.

Vote on deferment of the Vare case was not regarded as a test of strength on that issue or on the tariff. It was urged by Republican leaders solely as a means of expediting tariff legislation. When the Vare issue is brought before the senate on December 3, it is to be kept before the body until a vote is reached.

BELIEVED AGREEMENT WITH BRITAIN ON NAVAL MATTERS NEAR, FOLLOWING MEETINGS

WASHINGTON, Sept. 12.—(P)—A revision of the American position on disarmament facilitating an agreement with Great Britain and other nations, such an accord very near is believed to have resulted from a protracted series of conferences between President Hoover, Secretary Simpson, Secretary Adams and the general staff of the navy.

Information from an authoritative source was that Ambassador Dawes had been kept advised of the trend of the discussions, which yesterday filled most of the day and night, and that it was confidently expected that in the near future, perhaps within the next twenty-four hours, new instructions would go to Mr. Dawes for presentation to Prime Minister MacDonald.

Indications were the president's conferences had to do with a re-adjustment of the 15-cruiser construction program effecting a redistribution of tonnage, gunpower and other elements, to conform with the wishes of the London government.

The impression has prevailed in Washington that a rebalancing of the cruiser program might be effective in bringing closer the positions of the United States and Great Britain on the naval question.

During the past week the American naval experts have been engaged in a study of a possible shifting of the naval program such as is contemplated under the 15-cruiser law. Naval circles have pointed out that factors in this program in addition to tonnage, gunpower, armor, armor gunpower and other elements, might be reached.

CHINESE ARREST AND INTERN MANY RUSSIAN CITIZENS

HARBIN, Manchuria, Sept. 12.—(P)—Chinese Manchurian authorities during the 48 hours ending at midnight completed arrest of 300 more soviet Russian citizens, all were interned.

Reports from the front continuing conflict, with official dispatches stating the Soviet troops abandoned Chalanor and Pogranichnaya September 9, although Soviet airplanes continued to fly over the border cities, and as far inland as Mukden.

It was said the Soviet fliers dropped leaflets over Pogranichnaya, stating, "We won't bombard you again, thanks to your bread and salt," which is a popular Russian saying equivalent to "Thanks to your hospitality." It was assumed the Russians obtained food and other stores during their occupation of the city.

The Japanese consul general here reported he was advised an unidentified Japanese official was killed during the bombardment of Pogranichnaya. There was no further news from Manchuria, western frontier city.

All Fronts Quiet.
SHANGHAI, Sept. 12.—(P)—The official Kuomintang News Agency of the Nationalist government issued a Harbin dispatch today saying that "all fronts are now generally quiet in Manchuria, though Russian bombardment of the village Pogranichnaya continued sporadically until Sept. 10."

The statement asserted that while the weighted average ad valorem rate on agricultural commodities would be increased from 28.84 per cent to 32.80 per cent by the present law, the same average rate on industrial products would be raised 35.18 per cent to 43.83 per cent, an increase of 8.65 per cent for agriculture and of 5.65 per cent for industry.

TELLURIDE BANK PRESIDENT SHOWS LITTLE EMOTION UNCONCERNED AS TO FUTURE; SAYS HE KNEW WHAT HE WAS DOING

NEW CASTLE, Wyo., Sept. 12.—(P)—Seemingly unconcerned as to future, C. D. Waggoner, president of the small bank of Telluride, Colo., awaited quietly in his cell today the next action of federal authorities who charge him with a half million dollar fraudulent financial coup.

Unconcerned by the future caused by his manipulations which placed to his credit $500,000 belonging to six New York banks, through receipt of faked telegraphic orders, Waggoner told of his financial dealings.

Authorities who arrested him Tuesday night at a tourist camp near here, still held him on a charge of investigation, awaiting a federal warrant from New York to turn him over to federal authorities.

Indicate Others Implicated.
Meantime, Prestino T. McAvoy, county attorney, was en route to Denver with information which he expected to send to authorities there who are investigating the Denver angle of the case that baffled authorities and amazed the financial world. McAvoy indicated his investigation implicated Denver persons in Waggoner's deal.

Waggoner said his only motive was to protect depositors of the bank of Telluride. After depositing a $500,000 certified check in the Chase National Bank of New York, he drew a certified check for $270,000 on the bank with which he paid off four notes at the Central Bank of New York. One was $100,000, an obligation of the bank of Telluride, two other notes, similar obligations, were for $50,000 each, and the fourth was a personal obligation of $70,000.

"All of these were paid," he said, "and I directed the Central Bank to send the collateral which had secured the loans to the bank of Telluride. I am told that was done, and I feel certain the bank of Telluride has been relieved of obligations totaling $200,000."

"I went into this thing knowing I was doing a bad thing," the banker said in referring to the time when he was a "citizen in good standing" with little show of emotion. "I expect to take the consequences as to anyone who has studied the case, it is obvious I only wanted to protect my depositors. I don't care for the stockholders. Whatever comes, I am ready for it."

Records Go to New York
DENVER, Sept. 12.—(P)—Transportation to New York of all the records of the bank of Telluride in connection with the federal investigation of C. D. Waggoner's half million dollar swindle was arranged today by federal authorities here.

RAINS SINCE SEPTEMBER 1 BENEFICIAL TO CROPS NOT YET MADE CROP EXPERT SAYS

AUSTIN, Sept. 12.—(P)—Heavy rains since September 1 will be beneficial to crops not yet made, H. H. Schutz, statistician with the United States department of agriculture, said in a report issued today.

"Owing to the long duration of drouth, conditions during August have not been so good as usual," he said. "Cotton in Texas on August 1, had good prospects for a fair crop except in portions of the south, but the extremely high temperatures and lack of rainfall during the month caused deterioration seldom equalled in rapidly or severely. Insect damage over the south half of the state has been rather injurious, while other areas have suffered only nominal losses."

"Corn condition is reported at 60 percent of normal compared with 74 percent a year ago and a production of 99,162,000 bushels. This year's crop points to 81,850,000 bushels."

"The September 1 condition of rice is 88 per cent of normal and indicates a crop of 6,456,000 bushels. Sweet potatoes have declined during August. The 54 per cent condition shows a decrease of 10 points during the month."

"Citrus fruit has had extra-good care and the fruit is large for this time of year."

"Pecans give promise of 52 percent of a full crop. On August 1, the promise was 53 per cent."

FORMER CORSICANA MAN IS BUILDING FINE SUMMER HOME

O. & SEAGRAVES CREATING IDEAL FISH AND GAME PRE- SERVE NEAR KERRVILLE

KERRVILLE, Aug. 29.—Construction of a $150,000 home for O. R. Seagraves is now under way on the ranch property recently acquired by the Houston capitalist in Kern county. The palatial home, a Spanish type hacienda of native stone, is being built by the Russell Brown Co., of Houston. Plans were drawn by E. S. Ancira, Houston architect.

The Seagraves residence is being erected on a high bluff overlooking a lake created by a large concrete dam, which has just been completed.

Mr. Seagraves and family are spending the summer at the Blue Sunset Hotel in Kerrville.

The purchase of the ranch lands surrounding the head waters of the Guadalupe and Llano rivers several months ago, Mr. Seagraves has acquired eight large tracts and merged them into a huge game preserve. His holdings in the vicinity now total approximately 60,000 acres, which with the series of dams complete, the home and roadways now under way represent an expenditure of $1,500,000.

The greater portion of the old Live Oak Ranch of the Schreiner interests was included in the series of deals made by the Houston man. Five miles of Guadalupe river frontage and a few miles of the Llano are within the ranch boundaries, making it a natural refuge for fishing purposes. The large dam, impounding several acres of water near the home, is being stocked with fish. Game will be well protected and all hunting will be prohibited.

While the vast property is being primarily developed as a game preserve and a recreation center for Mr. Seagraves' family and friends, a few blooded cattle and thoroughbred horses will be kept on the ranch.

The preserve is located in Kerr and Real counties and it near the new Kerrville-Rocksprings highway.

The above, which appeared in a recent issue of the San Angelo Times, will be read with interest here, where Mr. Seagraves formerly resided. He is a cousin of Mrs. Richard Cunningham of this city.

DALLAS, Sept. 12. (AP)

—Not in recent years has the Southwest conference football training season opened with fame beckoning so alluringly to some young, unheralded backfield flash who can stand the circuit on its ears.

Almost always there has been one of the seven squads one fellow who was marked before the season opened, who gained almost as much personal publicity as the remainder of his team.

Last year it was Redman Hume, the brilliant Southern Methodist University halfback. A cracked ankle put him out early in the conference race and, possibly, prevented his living up to the teams of publicity that had been his. Before that the scribes centered their attentions on Mann, the Mustangs' "Little Red Arrow," and on Joel Hunt, Aggie's premier quarterback. Before that there was big Oscar Eckhardt, the Longhorns' great running back.

But the pedestal is unoccupied this year. There are some fine ball-luggers among the 350-odd candidates who reported to conference coaches Tuesday, but there is not one whose play was so outstanding last season as to make the mentors of six rival schools stay awake these nights figuring out how to stop him. The season may produce one, probably will.

If the Mustangs are to produce another outstanding star like Hume, he probably will come from the sophomore ranks. Those who have watched the Pony squad work out for two days are predicting that Bruce Kattman, a shifty halfback from Houston, will follow in the footsteps of Mann and Hume. He can punt, pass and run equally well.

Baylor has two candidates for the spotlight in Jake Wilson and Virgil Gilliland, who follow in the footsteps of Eckhardt and Hume. Both are backfield stars of the first water before the 1928 season expired. Gilliland's serpentine dashes across the goal line were highlights of several games, and Wilson's punting and generalship were not eclipsed in the conference.

Dexter Shelley, the Longhorns' darting ground gainer, will be one of the most to dwell over long on getting their squads in condition. Coach Morley Morrison of S. M. U. both face opening games September 21, so it will be necessary for them to start whipping their machines together almost from the first day.

As actual training began, the Baylor Bears still ranked as outstanding favorites to go through to the championship.

Earl Pressley Turned In High Score Shoot Wednesday Afternoon

The Corsicana Skeet club held another shoot at the Jake Hudson farm Wednesday afternoon with a considerably larger turnout of shooters. The club will likely be formally organized within the near future.

Earl Pressley turned in the highest score of the afternoon when he broke 22 out of a possible 25 on the first round and then turned in a perfect score in the second shoot.

The following scores were turned in Wednesday afternoon:

P. May, 15-15.
Jim Mazell, 9-14-15.

Morris Lovett, 17-22-16.

District 14 Teams Invited to Mexia

MEXIA, Sept. 12. (Sp.)—Representatives of all high schools in the University of Texas Interscholastic League District 14, Class B, have been invited to come here Thursday at 4 p. m. to discuss the football season, according to S. M. Brown, principal of Mexia high, who is temporary chairman of the district.

Schedules and rules will be discussed and plans made for Class B football race.

Teague Lions Look Good This Season; Old Players Back

TEAGUE, Sept. 10. (Sp.)—Prospects are bright for a wonderful football team in Teague this year. The Lions lost a few of their best "rosters" but she still has some of the best of the old squad back again. Kennedy, Higdon, Better, and Dodd are the ones who Teague is looking forward to carry the pigskin over the chalk line.

In addition has been made to the team from surrounding high schools. Among these are Bailey and Smith from Dew High school.

RICHLAND'S KID BASEBALL TEAM

The above picture is that of the Richland Kid baseball team which was one of the strongest teams in this section in its class. The team was composed of youngsters who were lightweights and played practically all of the teams of similar size and age during the summer.

No definite announcement has been made concerning the plans for next year, but it is expected that early in the spring of 1930, the club will again take the field.

BAYLOR RANKS AS EARLY FAVORITE;
GAMES SLATED SOON

DALLAS, Sept. 10. (AP)

—The Texas University Longhorns, 1928 Southwest conference gridiron champs, and six schools intent upon succeeding to the throne bucked down to work today in preparation for what promises to be as thrilling a race as the conference has seen.

Uniforms were distributed yesterday, and the seven conference coaches were prepared to bear down from the start. All of the squads will be put through two hard workouts each day until the middle of next week, when the University Mustangs will take their second workout after dark in the glare of flood lights at Ownby Stadium. No other school is similarly equipped.

Many candidates have been working out privately for several weeks, and it will not be necessary for the mentors to dwell over long on getting their squads in condition. Coach Morley Morrison of S. M. U. both face opening games September 21, so it will be necessary for them to start whipping their machines together almost from the first day.

As actual training began, the Baylor Bears still ranked as outstanding favorites to go through to the championship.

IRISH FREE STATE
SEEKS MEETING OF
POWERS ON SUBJECT

GENEVA, Sept. 11. (AP)

—The League of Nations today was called upon by the Irish Free State to convene a general disarmament conference of the powers. Patrick McGilligan, foreign minister of the Saorstad government, made the proposal. He expressed regret that eleven years after the close of the world war so little had been done to remove the weapons of war.

It was also reported that Lord Cecil on behalf of the British delegation would introduce a resolution urging the preparatory disarmament commission to hurry with its work so that a general disarmament conference might be called at the earliest possible moment.

The keynote to the solution of the problem of world disarmament McGilligan said was struck by the representative of the United States at the meeting of the preparatory

EIGHTY PLAYERS
CERTIFIED TEXAS
LEAGUE PLAY-OFF

DALLAS, Sept. 10. (Sp.)—The names of 80 players, half of whom will battle for the Texas League championship in the playoff series between Dallas and the winner of the second half of the race, were announced by league officials here today.

Each of the four clubs in the upper division, under an agreement, named a list of 20 players who will represent the club, in case the club gains a place in the playoff.

The lists follow:
Catchers, Blachof and Mealey; pitchers, Glazner, Frazier, Barnabe, Connally, Tauscher, avis, Radcliff, Morris, Flankamp, Jeffries and Stock; outfielders, Rosenthal, Randolph and Jim Moore, Johnson and Harvel.

Wichita Falls certified Tobin as coach, but not eligible to play, and reserved the right to substitute Schaefer for Stapienst, who was called away last week by the death of his father. The Wichita Falls list: Catchers, Crouch and Lapan; pitchers, Pavy, Messenger, Willes, Steengrafe, White, Croler, Parker and Elmeria; infielders, Stapienst, Perkins, Denton, Bettencourt and Herman; outfielders, Bennett, Fitzgerald, Sullivan, Lewis and Gullick.

Shreveport: Catchers, Tobin, Starr and Krause; pitchers, Owens, Morrell, Cooper, Colley, Williamson, Tuero, Thompson and Price; infielders, Whalsh, Stewart, Devivore, Holman and Woehrs; outfielders, Parks, Langford, Cashion and Cox.

Houston: Catchers, Mancuso and Funk; pitchers, Rhem, Brown, Reinhardt, Rose, Lindsey, Wachter, Holland and Foreman; infielders, Moore, Cunningham, Hook, Hunt and Bailey; outfielders, Martin, Miller, Taylor and Deck.

WAXAHACHIE, Sept. 11. (Sp.)—Giving an indication of the type of football that will be played by the team this year, footballs were soaring in all directions Tuesday afternoon at Trinity university, when thirty candidates answered the first call and reported to Coaches Logan Stollenwerk and Roy Dillon of the Tigers.

Naturally the fans were most interested in the new men and several of the candidates who are trying for the team for the first time impressed the critics and fans as being of Texas conference caliber.

Lowery Shows Up
Max Lowery, the 180-pound center from Corsicana who won all-district honors two years ago, looked as if he will be capable of handling the pivot position without any trouble. From the way he handled himself Tuesday, fans will have a right to be disappointed if he does not develop into another Cecil Manning or George H. Edmondson on the football field.

J. B. Kerr, the former Texas Military Academy center who will assist Lowery at the pivot position, is about twenty pounds lighter than the man he probably will understudy but it is not certain that he will not play regularly as his former coach recommends him highly as a smart player who never quits.

Too Many Games
Cause Stars to Fade

DALLAS, Sept. 10. (Sp.)—An extra heavy schedule in the Texas league this year has proved unprofitable both for club treasures and promising diamond talent.

Numerous double-headers, necessitated by 10 extra contests, have failed to attract crowds. The long grind likewise has "burned out" several valuable youngsters.

Cecil Stewart, brilliant Shreveport second baseman; Dick Sullivan, Shreveport outfielder; and Irvin Jeffries, Dallas third sacker, are cited as examples of good talent who didn't stand the grind.

As a result of the dual disappointment the circuit probably will return to a 154-game schedule next year.

C. C. Carter was in Mexia Wednesday morning on business.

Robert Garrett of the White's Chapel community brought a bale of cotton to town Wednesday morning.

CORSICANA, TEX., SEPT. 13, 1929

THE DAYS AHEAD.

Virtually all of the predictions now being made of business prospects for the remainder of the year agree that activity on an increasing scale is to be expected.

This optimistic outlook is based on the high momentum in industry, improved agricultural conditions, the fair state of employment and purchasing power, absence of any advance in commodity prices and for the time being, some reassurance in the direction of money and credit.

From the canvass of opinion among retailers serving the farming districts, it appears that excellent fall trade is in prospect. The canvass was broad and penetrating.

Where the basic lines of industry are concerned, little change is observed. Steel operations are at peak and constant. Automobile production continues to run at such a high record rate that forecasts of the year's output have been revised upward to near the 6,000,000 mark. The construction field offers the one weak spot in major activities.

Industry's showing during the first eight months of the year is counted most satisfactory. From what direction reaction will come in the future—if it does come—is more vague than it has been in recent years, which is, in itself, a hopeful sign.

Conservative observers in Navarro county express optimism over business and agricultural prospects and all lines of endeavor have prepared for a very active fall and winter business.

INTER-AMERICAN HIGHWAY.

Definite progress is being made on the proposed Pan American Highway—two countries already having begun construction of their portions of the route, according to a preliminary report prepared by the executive committee of the Pan American Confederation for Highway Education and submitted to the Pan American Union for the information of the American delegates to the Second Pan American Congress on Highways now in session in Rio de Janeiro.

Mexico and El Salvador already have located and begun construction of their sectors of the route, Guatemala and Nicaragua have asked the Pan American Confederation for Highway Education to join with them in a survey of the route, and Honduras has taken preliminary steps for a coastal highway which will serve as a unit in the inter-American system, it was explained.

No action by the United States will be necessary for a specific route as numerous improved highways are now available as alternate routes for this purpose, it was pointed out.

The report emphasizes that in the main, the studies which have been made would seem to indicate that in the countries of Mexico and Central America, a single inter-American highway seems practical, this apparently being true also in Chile. In other countries, including the United States, the geography is such that more than one route would seem to be desirable.

The department of agriculture reports the discovery of a blue dye for foods said to be brilliant and harmless. Something of the sort was needed, in view of the large number of blue serge vests.

At a "charm school" in Chicago the student is taught a graceful carriage by balancing a book on her head. Charm is enhanced in certain cases, too, by opening the book and holding it before the eyes.

THREE R'S AND A FOURTH.

Readin', 'ritin' and 'rithmetic have their forces marshaled for a new educational campaign. Approximately 3,500 Corsicana pupils will go into the class rooms when the local schools open next week, some for the first time but most of them to resume courses of study that have been interrupted by the summer vacation. Some will go back reluctantly, others will take up school routine perfunctorily as one of the little annoyances of life and a few will take up the broken thread of culture with as much enthusiasm as could be expected under the circumstances. How wonderful a day it would be if all the pupils could see it as they will see it in retrospect a few years hence, when sentiment as well as the practical side of life will bring a realization of the full meaning of the words of the old song about "school days, school days, dear old golden rule days."

This is a song for the mature and it should have the effect of reminding them of the fourth R in education, responsibility. It is likely that few persons capable of self-approvement do not feel that they neglected their opportunities for education when they were going to school. Most of them will blame themselves for what they have missed and they will be right. If they are wise they will say to themselves that they will also be responsible for a large part of what their children will miss if they are not awake to the extent that the return of school days involves them in the matter of duty.

The character of a child is formed by itself, its associates and its environment. Its deviations are the result of impulse, inclination and direction. The old saying—"As the twig is bent the tree is inclined"—holds good now and forever. The slightest causes have their effect on character and the accumulation of them for good or bad, form an important sum in the life of any person. A boy doesn't become a rowdy or a hoodlum spontaneously but by degrees, nor does a little savage become acceptable company for others except through training and reformation.

That is what constitutes the burden of responsibility of parents in school days. Too often they thank heaven for the end of vacation in the mistaken idea that the school teacher will take their children in hand and make little gentlemen and ladies out of them without any assistance from the home. There is more to home work than just the preparation of lessons, and wise parents realize this. If more of them did they would be laying up a smaller quantity of future tears for themselves than many are doing.

BASEBALL SEASON WANNING.

Baseball is on its last legs—seasonally, not as an institution of sport.

Another season is fast drawing to a close. League standings are virtually decided and the nation is reconciled to seeing the world series played in Philadelphia and Chicago. If a change of scenery will benefit this great tournament of baseball here is its opportunity.

Baseball is still king. The 1929 season has been successful from several angles. No complaints about the "gate" have been heard from the club owners, there has been no "race suicide" in the fans and a lot of good on-the-square baseball has been played.

This season has placed in the limelight enough promising material to start the fans talking about 1930 prospects before the 1929 season is dead. Boosters of tail-end clubs who have been predicting championship ball for them for many years only to see them fall by the wayside year after year now can cite facts and figures to prove that their pet nines will be in the running next year. Nothing would please fandom better than to see these prophecies come true.

CORSICANA MATTRESS FACTORY

ZEPPELINS AND COMMERCE.

The reported cost of the Graf Zeppelin is $3,000,000. It would be large; she is 778 feet long and 100 feet in diameter, an enormous structure of metal, fabric and machinery. This monstrous craft is back in Berlin after completing a record-making journey around the world. A few years ago such a voyage would have sounded plausible only in a fiction writer's tale of adventure. How much the operating cost of the amazing exploit in a ship was equaling the bulk of any vessels on the seas, is not known.

That would be large also. The financial side attracts these speculations because, after the recognition of the achievement, the question of utility and transportation development by this means becomes paramount. Presumably, after allowing for the weight of mail and necessary fuel and supplies she took all the passengers she could carry. On the several logs of the long flights the passenger list varied by two or three persons. Above her necessary crew of 42 men she bore also from 19 to 22 passengers, indicating a maximum human capacity of about 65 persons, crew and passengers.

Twenty passengers seems a small number to bear the commercial burden of such a giant's upkeep in normal times. The commercial footing, of course, would involve the costs of the essential large landing field, with a vast hangar available. Then, to bring her to ground and to start her from "dock" demands the help of ground crews now furnished by governments who would not be available gratis to a commercial enterprise.

We have witnessed a remarkable achievement but, while time and further experiment and demonstration will work improvements, it is easy to rush to premature anticipations that can never be realized.

IN FAVOR OF THE WOMEN.

Miss Elizabeth Chisholm, who has been studying the automobile accident figures of three states—New York, Connecticut and Massachusetts—declares that the popular notion that women drivers, in proportion to their numbers, are, involved in more or as many accidents as men is untrue.

In Connecticut, where there are four male drivers to one woman, the women were responsible for only one accident in 11. In Massachusetts there is one woman to five and one-half men, but the women were to blame for only one out of 17 accidents. In New York state the percentage was one in 25.

From these reports, which are the only ones available for which separate records are kept of male and female drivers, it is shown conclusively that the women are more careful than the men, when driving.

Miss Chisholm says it is because they think faster and "have had long practice in looking in small mirrors, which keeps them well aware of the road behind." A better guess is that the women are timid and take fewer chances.

Leaving the realm of guessing, isn't it a fact that the average woman driver does much less driving than the average man driver, thus throwing the figures completely out of balance?

A character actor in a theatrical weekly says he has always envied the monologist who walks on the stage from the street without a costume change. And chorus girls?

According to Mrs. Gann, the vice-president is a symbol. Now and then, but only rarely, one has tried to be a cymbal and no one would listen.

LOCAL OIL CONCERN NOW PART OF LARGE TEXAS CORPORATION

Final details of the merger of a number of oil interests in Texas into one big corporation were completed several days ago, and these interests are now being absorbed by the Cranfill-Reynolds Company, with general headquarters in Dallas, according to information received recently from the offices of the Central Texas Refining Co., one of the subsidiary divisions.

The parent corporation was capitalized at two and a half million shares with no par value and in the last few days the stock has risen from $10 to $22 a share. Approximately a million shares of the stock are still outstanding, giving the enterprise a market value at present of about $3 million dollars.

Included in the merger were Cranfill-Reynolds, Incorporated, a production company; Cody Petroleum Company of Wyoming, another production concern; the Moody-Seaver oil interests with extensive holdings in Liberty county and other Southern counties; the Petroleum Pipeline Company; the Central Texas Refining Company and a few smaller companies.

The Central Texas Refining Company will comprise the refining and marketing division of the corporation, and will maintain complete offices in Corsicana. The company now occupies the entire sixth floor of the State National Bank building.

The corporation is now interested in development of projects in South Texas and in New Mexico. They have recently brought in a 2500 barrel well in Leake county, New Mexico, and the company's No. 3 Esperson was reported making 250 barrels a day around 2200 feet, with the principal pay sand usually found about 1800 feet. This well is in Liberty county. Officials of the company asserted that no extensive development was being considered because of the great stocks of crude now on hand.

O. R. Seagraves of Houston, chairman of the board of directors and T. E. Cranfill of Dallas, president of the corporation. Other officers and members of the board include J. E. Reynolds of Dallas, W. L. Moody III of Galveston, C. A. Middleton of Corsicana, and A. H. Richardson and J. Edgar Pew of Dallas.

Distribution of Cen-Tex products over Central Texas is expanding rapidly, company officials stated.

HESTER, WORLD AUTHORITY ON COTTON, INTERESTED IN STATISTICS, NOT MONEY

BY RALPH WHEATLEY
 (Associated Press Correspondent)
 NEW ORLEANS, Sept. 11.—(AP)—Behind a desk piled with reports and statistics, a florid, stocky man sat making rapid calculations on a pad. Being deeply concentrated and hard of hearing, he was not aware of his callers.

Presently looking up, he smiled kindly, greeted his visitors, sought chairs for them and made them feel as if they were in his drawing room rather than interrupting him at a busy task in his office.

This man was Henry Garetson Hester, probably the greatest single human factor in the world's cotton trade, preparing his annual report on the movement and distribution of the cotton crop. The report had to be ready that day for transmission wherever the cotton bale is bought and sold. It was to be translated into the polyglot tongues of the world's traders so that they would know what "Hester says."

Many a man would have excused himself but not so this genial gentleman. He became the affable host, joking and laughing like a youngster but always directing his talk and his mind toward the present and future and never to the past. "A man is old only when he gets out of date," he said, a twinkle in his grayish blue eyes. "You man, do you know that if I live 17 years more I will be 100 years old? But I don't feel any different than I ever did. The body may not be quite what it was but my mind is as clear as ever."

Born in New Orleans November 18, 1846, the son of a British subject, Mr. Hester was educated in the public schools and took up the study of law in an attorney's office. Soon he forsook the law for the lure of the press and became financial reporter on a New Orleans newspaper and editor of the magazine "Price Current."

His start in the cotton world came 57 years ago after a small group of New Orleans business men had put up $10,000 to start the New Orleans Cotton Exchange, which he had advocated in his news columns. He was offered the superintendency of the exchange at $2,500 a year. He declined the offer but a banker, impressed by the young man's keen knowledge of business, insisted and he took the job as a side-line with no salary.

A few months later, he took over the combined job of superintending and secretary of the exchange. From that day he dominated the way that I want to tell everybody about this wonderful treatment. W. T. Farmer, 3951 Capital St., Dallas.

Two Seriously Injured Today In Boiler Blast

TEXARKANA, Sept. 10.—(AP)—Explosion of a boiler, which partially wrecked two buildings and hurled the boiler two blocks and through the roof of another building, rocked Texarkana's business section today. Two workmen, Roy A. Tatum, 28, and P. Conant Wayman, 19, of Texarkana were injured seriously.

The blast, cause of which had not been determined, occurred in the rear of the Southern Creameries plant. It tore out the rear of a corner of a motor building across an alley and hurled the boiler 500 feet in the air and two blocks away into a vacant store building.

City and county officials started an investigation.

FRUIT PALACE TO OPEN AT PALESTINE MONDAY, SEPT. 16

ONE OF GREATEST PARADES
EVER SEEN IN THAT SEC-TION IS SCHEDULED

PALESTINE, Sept. 10.—(Sp.)—Midst the blare and tramp of the three best bands in East Texas, the Fruit Palace at Palestine will officially open at 5:30 p. m. Monday, Sept. 16th when the greatest parade ever seen in this section starts down historic Avenue A. According to present estimates, there will be more than fifty commercial floats, more than fifteen floats entered by fraternal orders, and more than fifteen community floats, in addition to the bands, the customary officials, and the clowns in this tremendous offering which will be more than two miles in length. The Lions' club is in charge of this part of the fair. Each of the community floats will bear a princess, representative of her section of Anderson county, and from these will be selected a queen of the East Texas Fruit Palace. The entrants include Miss Irene Moore of Cockerham, last year selected at the Cotton festival at Palestine. Following the parade, the princesses will be entertained by the Lions' club, after which at 8 p. m., the formal coronation, free to the public, will be held on the grounds of the Fruit Palace. The coronation costumes have been procured at great expense by the directors of the Palace, the head-dress alone costing more than $250.00.

Tuesday's feature is a pageant, presented free to attendants at the fair by the Rotary club of Palestine, entitled "The Attack of a Wagon Train by Indians," depicting Anderson county one hundred years ago and containing more than one hundred people in its cast. The identity of the chief has remained a mystery, a guessing contest now being held with prizes to the winner.

American Legion Day. East Texas American Legion is the dedication of Wednesday, September 18th, and at 8 p. m. on this day the Howard Cadet Post will present "Over the Top," a sham battle portraying an attack in the Argonne by American Infantry Company A of the 143rd Infantry at Rusk and the machine gun company of the 143rd Infantry, stationed at Alto, will be of material assistance in this presentation, which includes the most expensive display of fireworks ever seen in East Texas. In the course of this program the emblem of the American Legion and the Star Spangled Banner will be suspended in the air by firework. A band composed of the Waco Drum and Bugle Corps will also be present.

While the announcement cannot be made at this time, the American Legion post at Palestine promises that one of the most distinguished orators in Texas will be on hand to deliver a brief address on the principles of the American Legion. On Thursday, prizes will be awarded to the fattest man, the largest family, the tallest person, and the shortest grown person, the oldest person, and the person coming from the longest distance who attend the Fruit Palace on this day. Its official designation is Colored School Children's Day, and a surprise entertainment is promised for that evening.

Boy Scouts will have charge of the program for Friday, September 20th, designated as White School Children's Day, and all bearing proper credentials of their falling in this class will be admitted free. Arrangements are now being perfected for a Baby Show on this evening. Saturday, Home-Coming Day, will be featured by the awarding of prizes in all exhibits.

Sixteen community exhibits. Anderson county have arranged for exhibits at this fair, as well as seven colored communities, this being the full quota for which the commercial buildings have facilities. Educational features include farm products livestock, poultry, art, relics and antiques, with their innumerable classifications. Information can be secured in this regard from E. J. Summers, secretary of the Texas Fruit Palace at Palestine.

Free features at the fair include an evening concert by the Missouri Pacific Band of more than fifty pieces of equipment valued at more than $17,000.00, rated as one of the best bands in Texas every day; free comic and educational pictures on the grounds every day by the courtesy of the Palestine chamber of commerce; and balloon ascensions and parachute jumping by Daredevil Charlie Williams of Hollywood, holder of several dirt track and endurance records. In addition, the Rice-Dorman Carnival Shows will contribute many and various amusement features, adding the gala day element to the exhibitions at the Fruit Palace. Meals will be served from varied concessions on the grounds, mostly handled by the ladies of Palestine, and promise the nearest thing to home cooking that has ever been obtained at any similar occasion. On Saturday, September 21st, Forest Avenue High School of Dallas, picked by the Dallas sport writer as the most prominent contender for the Dallas city championship, will engage Palestine High School, boasting its best rounded team in years, in the opening game of the football season in East Texas.

INTERESTING FACTS ABOUT CAMP FIRE; IT IS EDUCATION

CAMP FIRE ACTIVITY MERELY FOUNDATION FOR GIRL
TO GO AHEAD

The annual Camp Fire Council banquet and election of officers will be held in the near future and at that time plans will be laid for the annual drive for funds to finance the great work being done among Corsicana girls for the ensuing year. In order that Corsicana mothers and fathers and others interested in girls and boys as well might have a truer insight into what Camp Fire stands for a number of articles will appear in the Sun from time to time, of which the following is the first.

Mrs. Harry Kaufman is publicity chairman and through Mrs. Albert Williams, president of the local Camp Fire Council, has secured some interesting data and each story will be well worth reading:

Camp Fire is Education. Step aside from the rush of today and look at this idea which is called Camp Fire. It will stand the kind of scrutiny and speculation which you mean to but whose vitality and increasing number of interests and steady progress always amaze and stimulate you into new aims and ideas for yourself.

The educators, who sixteen years ago pooled their ideas and evolved what we call the Camp Fire principle, must have been gifted with second sight about the conditions in which we live today because the faster the world goes, the more the program of the movement continues to be needed by girls everywhere.

From the outset Camp Fire assumed that girls wanted to realize themselves and that this could best be accomplished by individual and group activities. The organization of the Camp Fire Girls was not a philanthropic or charitable undertaking. Neither was its purpose that of reform. It was simply and practically assumed that girls wanted a chance to discover themselves and their capabilities.

Consequently all Camp Fire activity is merely foundation for a girl to go ahead and to make something of her life. She may find that she wants to learn to paint, or to be a doctor, or to devote her time and energies to a home, Camp Fire helps her discover this bent and start on her way.

A further proof that educational Camp Fire has been on the right track from its beginning is that its principles at the present time in line with those of modern education and developing side by side with the ideas of the progressive schools. Other large organizations for girls have greatly changed in the last five or six years not only in method but in objectives. An analysis of the Camp Fire program today compared with the program five years ago reveals that the only changes have been in the emphasis of objectives already held and in the adaptation of methods. In the meantime other organizations are approaching and in some cases already adopting the very principles first laid down by Camp Fire.

A few years ago there was much said about the scarcity of leadership. This same need still exists

PROCESS TO MAKE SWEETER FORM OF MILK SUGAR TOLD

DEPARTMENT OF AGRICULTURE
SCIENTIST TELLS OF DISCOVERY

MINNEAPOLIS, Sept. 11.—(P)—Development of a commercial process for making a sweeter and more soluble form of milk sugar was announced today by Dr. R. W. Bell of the department of agriculture in an address prepared for delivery before the American Chemical Society.

The sugar is called beta anhydride lactose, and the process for cheap commercial production was perfected by Dr. Bell in the research laboratories of the bureau of plant industry.

Lactose is the sugar of milk and, in its natural state, is found only in milk of mammals. Its value as a constituent of infant food and for use in the diet of patients suffering from intestinal disorders has long been known to medical science. The milk sugar of commerce, known as the alpha hydrate form, is a chalk-like powder having a flat and but slightly sweet taste and it is not readily soluble. Beta anhydride lactose, on the other hand, is four times as soluble as the alpha form, giving solutions a higher degree of sweetness.

DALLAS, Sept. 11.—(P)—The autumn's first assortment of inclement weather had left most of Texas in relatively favorable position today.

The initial northern blow chill over most of the state yesterday, and the general rains left a possible flood situation in one area—the Mitchell county sector of the Colorado river—but it was averted apprehension. Reports from Austin that the river's crest there had fallen strengthened belief the 18-foot rise at the town of Colorado would occasion no serious trouble.

Two cities—Amarillo with 52 and Wichita Falls with 57—had winter-time temperatures as did Dallas and Fort Worth, each with readings as low as 60. Others were in the 60's and 70's.

The Gulf coast and the Rio Grande were cooler than usual but did not experience the bite of the cold felt in most of the state.

DECREASE IN DAILY AVERAGE PRODUCTION OF ALL OIL FIELDS

TULSA, Okla., Sept. 10.—(P)—Bolstered by continual increases in the Oklahoma City pool, Oklahoma was the only major area in the United States during the week ending Sept. 7 which reported an increase in its estimated daily average production of crude oil.

Estimated daily average for both heavy and light crude in the United States, according to the Oil and Gas Journal, was 2,951,790, a decrease of 18,374 barrels from the total for the week ending Aug. 31.

Oklahoma City pool's increase was 4,915 barrels. The total increase for Oklahoma, however, was but 825 barrels. Rates pool in the West Texas area climbed slightly, but other pools held the total production to a minimum decrease.

The total Midcontinent area was approximately 5,000 barrels below the mark for August 31.

Gulf coast heavy oil gained approximately 4,000 barrels; eastern light approximately 6,000.

In the California area the deep drilling pool at Santa Fe Springs dropped precipitously approximately 21,000 barrels in its daily average. Total decrease for the entire state was 20,000 in light oil and 3,000 in heavy oil.

Total estimated daily average production for the country for the week ending Aug. 31 was 2,970,184 barrels, approximately 5,000 barrels below the mark set for the preceding week.

Kansas production was 129,835 as compared to 127,920 for the previous week.

DEMOCRATS AND INDEPENDENT REPUBLICANS WIN FIRST TILT TARIFF BILL CONSIDERATION

WASHINGTON, Sept. 10.—(P)—The senate today adopted the Simmons resolution calling upon the treasury to furnish congress with income tax data for use in the tariff contest.

The vote was 51 for the resolution and 27 against. It was a victory for the democrats and republican independents who combined to oppose the bill as revised by the finance committee majority. It was the first test of the contending groups in the senate tariff contest.

The resolution, sponsored by Senator Simmons of North Carolina, ranking democrat of the finance committee, as amended, authorizes the committee to request the treasury to furnish it with the profits, losses, wages, and other tax data of corporations and other taxpayers, including importers, as disclosed in their income and capital stock tax returns for the last seven years.

Under the Simmons proposal, names of the taxpayers whose financial status would be sought would be those whose products, in the opinion of the committee or majority or minority members, are affected by the tariff bill.

Twenty-one republicans joined a solid democratic line-up in support of the Simmons resolution. Those voting for the Simmons resolution were: Republicans—Blaine, Borah, Brookhart, Capper, Couzens, Frazier, Glenn, Howell, Jones, LaFollette, McMaster, McNary, Norris, Nye, Fine, Robinson of Indiana, Sackett, Schall, Steiwer, Thomas of Idaho, and Vandenberg. Democrats—Ashurst, Barkley, Black, Brock, Broussard, Connally, Dill, Fletcher, George, Glass, Harris, Harrison, Hayden, Hefflin, King, McKellar, Overman, Pittman, Randall, Robinson of Arkansas, Sheppard, Simmons, Steck, Swanson, Trammell, Tydings, Wagner, Walsh of Massachusetts, Walsh of Montana, and Wheeler.

Against the resolution: Republicans—Allen, Bingham, Dale, Edge, Fess, Gillett, Goff, Goldsborough, Gould, Greene, Hale, Hastings, Hatfield, Hebert, Kean, Keyes, McCall, Moses, Patterson, Phipps, Shortridge, Smoot, Townsend, Walcott, Warren, Waterman, and Watson—27.

Democrats—None.

WOMAN KIDNAPPED BY MAORIS WHEN CHILD, IS FOUND

WHITE WOMAN RESTORED TO RELATIVES AFTER NEARLY THIRTY YEARS

AUCKLAND, New Zealand, Sept. 11.—(P)—Kidnapped by Maoris in childhood and eventually married to a native chief, a white woman has been restored to her relatives after nearly 30 years.

When a child of six, Caroline Perrett went to tend the cows on her parents' farm at Taranaki, in the north island of New Zealand. She disappeared, and it was believed she was carried off by Maoris in revenge for the disturbance of their burial ground to make way for a railway. From then until recently no trace of her was found.

A niece of the missing woman saw an European woman with the Maoris at Taranaki. She was struck by the extraordinary family likeness, and questioned the woman, who said she had been with the Maoris all her life. She could not remember how she came to be with them.

The niece asked the woman to show her her neck, as she knew that when a child the aunt had fallen across a hot grate, which left a scar. The woman bore this mark. She remembered the Maoris taking her in an open canoe to the gumfields near Whangarei. She had married a Maori chief and had two children. The chief died recently.

E. L. DUPUY NAMED DIRECTOR OF CENSUS SIXTEENTH DISTRICT

WILL HAVE HEADQUARTERS IN CORSICANA FOR FOUR COUNTIES

According to announcement from Washington through news dispatches and by official notice received by Mr. Dupuy himself, Edmund L. Dupuy of Corsicana has been named supervisor of the census for the sixteenth district of Texas, composed of Navarro, Freestone, Limestone and Ellis counties, with his headquarters in Corsicana. Mr. Dupuy announced Tuesday morning that his headquarters would be in the new post-office building, where all the work of the district would be centered and from whence directions would be sent out for the taking of a complete census of the district.

Mr. Dupuy, who will have charge of the naming of some 200 enumerators and office men, made it plain that he desired the assistance of the best men obtainable in the positions of enumerators and clerical force in securing a complete count of the people in his district, as well as getting the numerous other data that the census will comprise this year.

It was brought out by the newly named official that it was desired that not only a full and complete enumeration of the population of the district be made, but that all the information sought by the government in the census be gained by the enumerators. It was also stated that the people should not withhold any information sought by the government and asked by the enumerators, as there is no desire to snoop into the private affairs of the district residents, but that all the information sought is needed for the various activities and projects by the government.

It was especially stressed that no information secured in the census will be available for any taxation matters. No value placed on farm lands or other property will be permitted to be seen by any state or county official and will be absolutely not be used for a basis of fixing taxation values. Mr. Dupuy stated that such information was usually the hardest to secure for the reason that many believed that the information would be open to any who chose to call for it. Such, however, is not the case, and the information gained through the complicated census system will be used for the different departments of the government which is seeking the information and at no time will any information be used in any way to penalize the informants.

Corsicana Central Point
Mr. Dupuy stated that each of the larger towns or cities in the district, such as Corsicana, Ennis, Waxahatchie, Mexia, Groesbeck, Fairfield and Teague would have a man in charge to whom reports in that immediate district would be made and check-up methods used to verify the information, and that it would then be sent into the Corsicana headquarters, and that the central district headquarters in the postoffice building in Corsicana would be in close touch with all

Texas Road Granted Permission Intervene In Road Construction

AUSTIN, Sept. 10.—(P)—The Interstate Commerce commission has granted application of the Gulf and West Texas Railway company to intervene in the case of the Abilene and Southern Railway company, seeking a certificate of necessity to construct a line of railway from Ballinger to San Angelo. Governor Moody has been notified.

The Gulf and West Texas Railway company was organized to operate a railroad from Corpus Christi via San Antonio to Sann Angelo, and its application for a certificate is pending before the I. C. C.

It claims the proposed line from Ballinger to San Angelo would serve the same territory it would traverse.
Parts of the district by telephone at all times.
Work on making preparations for the heavy work of taking the government census will be started soon, Mr. Dupuy said, and again intimated that he would seek the very highest class of assistance in taking the district sixteen census, emphasizing the fact that he wanted no assistants who believed that it was a government sinecure and that they merely wanted the place for the money that was involved and not to give the highest type of service which was due the government, first, and his town and county.

PURCHASE OF FIVE BIG CIRCUSES BY LAST FAMOUS BROTHERS ANNOUNCED

NEW YORK, Sept. 10.—(P)—John Ringling, who started a singing clown, rules as supreme ringmaster of the circus world today.

By purchase of five of his foremost competitors, the last of the famous Ringling Brothers has acquired control of the largest group of tent shows in the world, including their talent, managers, equipment and winter quarters.

The shows which have been added to the Ringling group are Sells Floto, Hagenbeck Wallace animal show, Sparks, John Robinson's and the Al G Barnes wild animal show. The properties were purchased from the American Circus corporation in a transaction which friends of the showman said, involved several million dollars. The exact figure was not disclosed.

PROBE OF ALLEGED COTTON SEED TRUST IN TEXAS IS ASKED

TEXARKANA, Sept. 10.—(P)—Investigation of an alleged "cotton seed trust" which Congressman Wright Patman estimated might cost Texas farmers $25,000,000 this year is in the hands of Attorney General Pollard.

Congressman Patman charged, in a letter to the attorney general, that the cotton seed oil interests controlled many gins, had divided the gins up between them and that they were paying far below the market price for cotton seed.

The attorney general has turned the matter over to Galloway Calhoun, assistant attorney general. Patman charged many gins could afford to gin cotton free at the price they were getting paid for the seed.

CORSICANA GIRL DESCRIBES VISIT TO JAPANESE CITY

MISS IEZ KING WRITES INTERESTINGLY OF STOP IN JAPAN ON WAY KOREA

Mr. and Mrs. King and family recently received a Zeppelin postcard from their daughter, Miss Inez King who has been visiting friends in Tokyo, Japan. The postcard was a most interesting letter has been received, telling of her landing in Kobe and her first impressions of Japan. Parts of this letter are given below, believing that it will be of interest to Miss King's friends in Corsicana.

"August 6 p. m.—"In the Island of Japan, each maid takes up her fan. And that is true, in fact, even though we reached Kobe during a period of relief from the intense heat, it is warm. We arrived at eight o'clock this morning, not due until four this afternoon. The approach was not as romantically thrilling as coming to Honolulu had been. I am sure the difference in my feeling was caused by the strenuous thirty-six hours previous. We were hit by the front end of a typhoon, and beginning yesterday morning and continuing through until about eleven last night, the good old Van Buren, steady as she is, tossed and rolled and pitched. Nevertheless, there was a marvelous majestic atmosphere about the waves, spray of green and white, foam-crested, flinging themselves over the hatchets (we watched from the upper deck from closed port holes.)

Due to the rough sea and heavy weather I did not packing yesterday, so I had to busy myself this morning quite early. I got up a quarter of five, so I could see the mountain islands on each side of us as we came through the Island Sea. Then after we pulled inside the harbor, the quarantine officers, four Japanese men, dressed in white suits that looked about like interne uniforms, boarded our ship, lined us up, passed us, and we went to breakfast, my last meal on the old Van Buren.

My friends, the Burnells, met me. They did everything, getting me through the customs, made reservations for my trip to Yokohama, expressed my baggage to Seoul, registered me at the Oriental, and after seeing me comfortably settled, they left me. I went to sleep until five o'clock. Then, even though it was raining, I took a ricksha ride. It was charming. Myriads of bobbing, twirling umbrellas of myriad shades, topped little softly-hued kimonoed people clicking on the pavement in their shoes on stilts.

The main shopping street looks like a carnival night with its numerous arched lights, gold signs, and colorful lanterns. The people look very happy, having to greet each other in the street. Everything seems to be done in a leisurely fashion here. One takes a ricksha because its more charming, although taxis are quite available. The shopping district prohibits automobiles, however, for the streets are narrow, pedestrians walking in them to the left. On the streets where cars are allowed, I noticed funny little brushes attached to the sides of the wheels

COUNTY OFFICERS IN LIQUOR RAID

The above pictures were taken when Sheriff Rufus Pevehouse and members of his staff raided a house on the Boulevard several days ago. When a complete check of their find had been made, sixty-three gallons of whiskey had been confiscated, a large barrel which had been buried in the back yard, a pump, scores of fruit jars, and a hidden cache in the house had been discovered. One arrest was made. Negro prisoners in the county jail unearthed the hidden 50-gallon barrel of whiskey.

In the upper picture, Deputy Sheriff J. M. Westbrook is shown pumping the whiskey out of the barrel into a container.

to prevent splashing the pedestrians.

11:45 p. m.—Thrillingly enchanted have I been this evening. Our boat crowd went to Kikusui restaurant for a Japanese dinner. There were ten in the party. In ten rickshas we went to a veritable fairyland. Everything was typically Japanese; we ate skosoki (that's how it sounds, I dare not try to spell it correctly), prepared by Gelsa, girls in front of us, cooked on little coal braziers in the center of low lacquered tables. We sat on the straw floor on cushions, having checked our shoes at the entrance. We walked all over the place in native slippers they furnished us. Up a bridge into a garden, then to a softly lighted room representing their ancestral worship. From there we strolled through room after room, nook after nook too full for me at attempt to describe. Suffice it to say, I was thrilled to ecstasy over it all.

STATE TREASURER TO BORROW MONEY TO MEET EXPENSES

AUSTIN, Sept. 11.—(P)—State employees will be saved the necessity for discounting their warrants pending replenishment of the general revenue fund by incoming tax money, through arrangements made with Dallas and Austin banks to carry the paper up to $2,000,000. W. Gregory Hatcher, state treasurer, announced today. This method has been resorted to by Hatcher in the past, but the banks a year ago advised against continuing the custom. If the legislature had not authorized a deficit—appropriations totaling $2,400,000, the general fund would have a balance of about $3,000,000 instead of the $400,000 now on hand, Hatcher stated.

Most of the former employees of the Marion Mills, which resumed operation yesterday, will return to work today, Alfred Hoffman, Southern organizer of the United Textile Workers, said.

Representatives Big Milk Company Look Over Navarro County

Two representatives of the Borden Milk Company of Waco are scheduled to spend several days in Corsicana and Navarro county within the near future according to press dispatches originating in Waco.

Local dairy farming leaders have been in communication with the company for sometime in an effort to secure a cooling station for Corsicana. Those scheduled to visit Corsicana are E. E. Waters, superintendent of the Waco plant, and J. E. Snider.

Commissioners May Appoint Weighers

MEXIA, Sept. 11.—(Spl).—The court of civil appeals at Waco in an opinion written by Associate Justice George W. Barcus has ruled that the county commissioners' court has the right to appoint public weighers in addition to the regularly elected public weigher, and that a commission acting as a public weighers may weigh cotton and issue receipts therefor.

The ruling was made on an appeal from decision of Judge Fountain Kirby who granted an injunction forbidding the Mexia Cotton Company and J. K. McCraw, an appointed public weigher, from weighing cotton in Precinct 4, of Limestone county. W. J. Sewell, public weigher, has obtained the injunction. The appellate court at Waco dissolved the injunction.

Remove the constipated condition and you will strengthen your system against disease and clear up your disfigured skin. NAVAL ARMAMENT CONFERENCE HELD WITH PRESIDENT

WASHINGTON, Sept. 11.—(P)—Secretaries Stimson and Adams and members of the naval general board were called to the White House by President Hoover today for another discussion on naval armament negotiations going on between this country and Great Britain.

This was another of a number of similar meetings which the president has held, looking toward a conference for further restrictions upon warcraft. The navy advisers were asked by the president to meet him in the cabinet room with the prospect that several hours would be consumed in going over the latest developments. President Hoover cancelled most of his engagements for the morning so he would be able to work undisturbed.

THE modern woman knows it is better and cheaper to let 7 and 5 do her work for her. It saves time, money and strength. It gets better results in cleaning, washing, ironing, refrigeration, cooking, sewing, and many other household tasks.

7 and 5 are the two steps in the new electric energy rate for domestic electric service of the Texas Power & Light Company. This is the rate which is now in effect and which brings you the advantage of using larger amounts of electric service at only a small additional cost.

7 and 5 make electricity so cheap that you do an injustice to yourself, to your family, to your health and to your future when you fail to make full use of it. Electricity is now cheaper than it has ever been in this community.

Let 7 and 5 work for you while you enjoy living. They will create new hours for you and give you the strength and health to live them fully. 7 and 5, The Economy Twins, are always ready to work for you—just press the button and there they are, cheap and reliable—at your instant service.

ALL STUDENTS MUST TAKE EXAMINATIONS IN LOCAL SCHOOLS

PRACTICE OF EXEMPTIONS FROM EXAMINATIONS TO BE DISCONTINUED

Exemptions from final examinations in the Corsicana public school will be discontinued following the action of the board of trustees Tuesday afternoon; selection of a school depository and adoption of a school calendar were other important matters receiving attention.

The decision to abolish the policy of allowing exemptions was made at the request of numerous parents and the recommendation of the board of education. Supt. H. D. Fillers announced Wednesday morning. Many of the outstanding schools of the state have adopted the policy of no exemptions, and are devoting every effort to adapt the students to college conditions. Many complaints have been received concerning the exemption from parents and from students themselves, who have been exempted from examinations in higher educational institutions because they were unfamiliar with the exam process.

The scholarship club of the high school will be given as usual with recognition being given those students who make outstanding records during the scholastic year.

School Calendar. Formal opening of the public schools on Sept. 15 is the opening date on the school calendar as adopted by the board of education Tuesday afternoon; although a place has been left vacant for one day, it is not thought that this holiday will be observed, and the next regularly scheduled holiday is set for November 11, Armistice day. Thanksgiving will be observed on November 28-29, and Christmas holidays will begin on December 20 and extend to January 2, giving extended holiday period.

Mid-term examinations are scheduled for January 20-24, with the new semester starting on January 27. A holiday will be observed for Washington's birthday. Final examinations are scheduled for May 28-29, with commencement exercises on May 30.

The bid for the First State Bank was accepted as the school depository for the ensuing fiscal year.

Miss Mary Few will replace Miss Reba Rushing on the high school staff, according to announcement made Wednesday.

A preliminary meeting of principals of the various schools will be held Friday afternoon, and the annual city teacher's institute will be held at the high school Saturday, when final instructions will be given to the faculty.

Library Facilities. Superintendent Fillers also announced that library facilities would be available to the students of the junior high school during the coming semester with the addition of numerous volumes of reference works, and the establishment of a library in that school.

Principal W. H. Norwood of the high school announced Wednesday morning that more than 700 students had made out programs for the coming year, and a small number are yet to be filled out. He declared that work would begin Monday with a full session, and that very probably students attempting to register Monday would find some difficulty during the regular school hours.

Enrollment forecasts indicate that an even larger number of students will have to be accommodated in the high school, and the building and faculty will be severely taxed to meet the situation. Mr. Norwood stated, since every classroom is crowded to its capacity, and for many of the sections chairs will have to augment the regular seating arrangements.

STERLING AWAITS CALL OF PEOPLE FOR GOVERNORSHIP

MEXIA, Sept. 11.—(AP)—Whether Ross S. Sterling, chairman of the state Highway commission, would become a gubernatorial candidate depends on the enthusiasm with which his followers call on him to make the race, it appeared today.

The Houston capitalist, speaking at a lighting system inauguration ceremony before several thousand persons here last night, declared he "had no idea of being a candidate for governor. That," he added, "depends on the people."

J. I. Riddle introduced Mr. Sterling as "the next governor of Texas."

The commission chairman devoted most of his address to highway problems.

Two Thousand Years Ago Law Observance Was Issue

Restoration of Jewish National Life Vitalized By a Great Celebration of Law-Revelation— Present-Day Parallels.

By WILLIAM T. ELLIS

Old-fashioned believers in a Divine Providence will perceive a significance in the occurrence, at the present time, of an International uniform Sunday school lesson upon the theme of law-observance. When this series of lessons was planned, several years ago, by a committee of scholars representing the United States and Canada, and the leading denominations, no man foresaw that the whole North American continent would at this time be undergoing a veritable crisis with respect to the place of law in the people's life. The International lesson committee thought only to teach the story of a high hour in the experience of the restored Jewish nation. But, lo, the opportuneness and pertinency of the tale to this very day is so extraordinary as to be deemed Providential.

This is the old truth for the new times. Slips with experience of twenty-five hundred years, the message comes thundering down the corridors of time that without the law there can be no national security, solidarity or safety. In vain are the walls of the city restored unless the changeless law of the living Lord is their buttress. Law is more than restraint; it is constraint. It not only prohibits, but it also propels. Law is an impulse and a purpose, as well as an obligation. It inspires men to do, as well as to forego. Motivation is a mightier element in law than negation. This positive aspect of law is what makes a solid group out of scattered individuals. It was the tie that bound the Jews into nationhood, and redeemed them from dissipation by dispersion, even as it had once unified them out of slavery.

After the Building, What? After a nation has become rich and powerful, what then? Jerusalem's walls had been rebuilt by Nehemiah, and its enemies repulsed. Safety and prosperity had arrived. What then? Nothing is clearer than that mere things can never satisfy either a man or a nation. The world's travel lanes are dotted with discouraged men who make their fortunes but are miserable in trying to discover the next step in the experience and enjoyment of life. After security, what?

In the case of the returned Jews, the lesson tells the story. The people were gathered at the capital, near the rebuilt temple, and the neglected law of Moses was read to them, as an interpretation of their national life and duty. What we know as the Pentateuch was the sacred law; but it had been neglected and forgotten.

This great session of Scripture-reading came as a revelation to the people. At first, the narrative moved them to tears, in consciousness of their shortcomings. Then they were inspired to joy and festal-keeping, in the knowledge of the new-old treasure that belonged to them. Their unity as a people was restored and expressed by the law. They knew themselves to be heirs of the special goodness of Jehovah.

Law meaning was put into the life of the Jews by this revelation of the law. A sense of solidarity, of brotherhood, of a common life, the strength of the wolf is the pack. Vast and alluring social responsibilities and relationships were opened up to them. Heathen tyranny and oppression and usury and class distinction, which had developed among the Jews, were shown to be incompatible with the law and with democracy and with national unity. For the first time, the listeners realized the greatness of their inheritance from their fathers and from their God. Small wonder that a protracted period of elation and festival followed the reading of the law.

The First Pulpit. This great celebration of the reading of the law was no casual affair. Elaborate preparations were made for it. A high wooden pulpit was built, down in the south-east corner of the temple area—first mention of a pulpit in literature. Two groups of laymen, Levites, were arrayed on either side of Ezra, the scribe, who was the nation's greatest law-giver, after Moses. Apparently this was a sort of laymen's movement, with the priestly party not in evidence. The cleavage between Bible-studying believers and authoritative ecclesiasticism is evidently not new.

With a reverence that is not alien to the walls of the city, the reading of Scripture, the great assembly of Jews listened attentively for seven hours to clear, understandable and interpreted presentation of the law. The readers read distinctly, and gave the sense.

It is most important for a minister to be able to read the Bible well in public than it is for him to be able to preach. H. H. Halley is travelling about the country giving Bible recitations that are being effective than most sermons. Let the people hear what God has to say in His words and there will not be need for motion pictures, book reviews and politics in the pulpit. No revival worth the name will ever come except by way of a clear presentation of the Bible.

Anarchy in High Places. Everywhere one goes nowadays, people of all sorts are to be found discussing laws. There is more practical anarchy being talked by men and women who should know better, than ever before in history. Certain groups of highest and lowest are united in a wretched fellowship of the profession and practice of law defiance.

Their basic assumption and agreement is that laws which they do not like may be disregarded. They refuse to accept the principle that laws are made for the benefit of the whole body of society, and not for the pleasure of the individual. Nor do these law-defiers comprehend that all man-made laws get their sanction from their consonance with the universal and eternal laws of God, which are summed up in the Eleven Commandments.

When Ezra read the law to the assembled Jews in rebuilt Jerusalem, he did not offer it as something created to please each individual. In fact, everybody found some of the laws running counter to his own tastes and interests. But all were to be obeyed, alike the laws that were pleasant and the laws that were unpopular. Ecclesiasticism in law observance is equivalent to the repudiation of all law. For if I choose to disregard the prohibition law my neighbor on one side may, with equal right, choose to disregard the law concerning property and my neighbor on the other side may choose to disregard the law concerning murder. Each of us may have just

BODY OF ROBISON REPOSED IN SENATE CHAMBER TUESDAY

AUSTIN, Sept. 10.—(AP)—The body of J. T. Robison, commissioner of the general land office for 21 years, reposed in the senate chamber of the state capitol today.

Decision to remove the bier to the capitol was made this morning when friends of the longtime state official petitioned the family to let it lie in state there.

Governor Moody ordered all departments of state closed while the body was in the capitol. It will be removed at 3 p. m. to a mortuary across the capitol grounds where funeral services will be held at 5 p. m. by Rev. W. D. Bradford of Dallas of Southern Methodist University.

The body reposed last night in the late commissioner's home five miles south of Austin on the Post Road. It was received here late yesterday after its long journey from New London, Conn., where Mr. Robison died Saturday.

Friends of Mr. Robison from many parts of Texas had gathered here to attend the burial of the veteran state official.

Burial will be beside graves dedicated for our lawlessness, from the individual viewpoint.

Laws That Last. One notable fact about this festival of the law in the experience of the Jews, twenty-five hundred years ago, is that the thousand-year-old law they were hearing and celebrating has continued to this day as the law of civilization.

Modern society is built upon the Decalogue. The Ten Commandments, although flouted by fools and knaves, continue to be as applicable to human life as ever they were. There are of eternal and universal application. They may be broken—it is every mortal's divine right to go to hell—but they break the society or civilization which violates them.

Certainly if we considered the contemporary problems of law in quietous law we should see more clearly. Soundness and safety and sweetness of life are to be found only in the keeping of the eternal law of the living God.

FORMAL OPENING OF COX DRY GOODS CO. DREW GREAT CROWDS

LARGE AND COMPLETE ES- TABLISHMENT PRESENTED TO CITIZENS LAST NIGHT

Hundreds of people from Corsicana and the surrounding areas attended the formal opening of the R. E. Cox Dry Goods company last night. The store is located on the city square and was opened at 8 o'clock. Flowers were presented to the ladies visiting the store and punch was served to all those who attended.

Presenting a completely renovated establishment, thoroughly departmentalized in keeping with the latest ideas of merchandising, the store and manager were the constant recipients of congratulations and compliments from those who visited the store during the evening.

No merchandise was offered for sale, but the full staff of employees was in attendance answering the queries of the interested. The largest stock of merchandise carried by any store in the Corsicana trade territory was attractively displayed in every form and fashion, in the modern equipment.

The visitors were greeted as they entered the store by George L. Cox, Corsicana manager, R. F. Cox of Stephenville, and Russell Cox of Waco, members of the first generation of the Cox family. The store was provided on the lower floor.

On the second floor, the Corsicana Pepper Shakers, popular colored orchestra dispensed a snappy music during the hours of the opening. The ladies were presented with beautiful carnations by a group of attractive young Corsicana misses which included Misses Rose Hashop, Evelyn Sheets and Lina Rose Carson.

Two punch bowls furnished an ample supply of refreshments. Among other out of town visitors Tuesday evening were E. C. Faulkner, advertising manager, and L. J. Burton, credit manager of the stores, both of Waco.

The latest member of the Cox chain, president of the most modern and up-to-date mercantile establishments in this section of the state, with all modern equipment, and one of the largest stocks of merchandise to be found. The store has been completely renovated, and elevator equipment has been added.

The store opened under the Cox management in May, but since that time improvements have been made steadily, and the manager stated Tuesday evening that additional improvements would be added from time to time to keep the store in the front ranks of progressive merchants.

CHAMBER DIRECTORS DISCUSS DAIRYING AND ROAD MATTERS

Dairying and highway maneuvers were the high lights of interest of the regular meeting of the board of directors of the Corsicana chamber of commerce Tuesday morning at 11 o'clock.

A proposal from Dallas individuals related to the establishment of headquarters for a mutual benefit association in Corsicana was read to the directors, and they decided that the proposal was outside their province.

After asking the attitude of the city toward the establishment of a large wholesale dressmaking establishment in Corsicana was read. According to the proposal, Corsicana would be asked to subscribe $50,000 stock for improvements and enlargements, the plant is now located at Evanston, Ill. The manager was asked to secure more information on the project after it was ascertained that similar proposals had been made to other Texas cities.

It was decided that a suitable time for the annual membership campaign would be early in October, and W. F. McCammon, chairman of the membership committee, was instructed to prepare his plans accordingly and to submit them to the next meeting of the directors.

Cooling Station Sought. A report from the dairy committee indicated that an effort had been made to secure a cooling station in Corsicana for one of the large milk plants in Texas, but that the company had stated that the production was not large enough to justify the investment. The committee indicated that they would continue their efforts to find a market for cream in this community.

Ted Ferguson reported briefly on the tour of a number of Texans through the dairying centers of the North and Middle West. He asserted that the principal lesson they obtained was that more attention should be paid to the feeding and the quality of the livestock on the farm.

Swedes, Norwegians and Germans, he declared, made up the most successful class of dairy farmers. Little effort was made to sell whole milk, he declared, except in the Wisconsin sector where the milk goes to the Chicago retail market; other sections use the skim milk on the farms, and sell the cream.

He also described a co-operative creamery which he observed. He declared that each man came back with the idea of doing more with what they had and really doing some work.

Believed Legislators Willing Serve Free to Patch Pension Act

AUSTIN, Sept. 11.—(AP)—That members of the legislature would agree to serve during a brief special session to amend the Confederate pension law and defray their own expenses was indicated by partial returns from a poll taken by Senator W. A. Williamson of San Antonio.

A tabulation made today showed that 46 members of the House of Representatives and 18 senators were favorable to the plan. Only eight members of the House had replied in the negative, and not a single senator was adverse to the idea.

held Saturday was presented to the directors and evoked a lively discussion. Copies of letters written to the highway department by Guy M. Gibson and President C. L. Jester on highway matters, were read. The Gibson letter asked the consideration of the department in making Highway 75 north through the country from Richland at least a 20 foot road and more if possible.

The Jester letter directed the attention of the department to the fact that some legal objections might arise if the lower route to Palestine were followed, striking the river about a mile and a half from Oliver bridge.

J. N. Edens challenged the wisdom of the procedure and said in effect that too many obstacles in the shape of minor troubles had been allowed to interfere with road projects and that proper action had not been taken by the directors in securing the most rapid construction. President Jester defended the action taken, but agreed that it might be a deterrent to immediate action.

The directors agreed that the large library of city directories which had been built up, should be offered the public, but the books will not be taken to be taken from the chamber office.

President Jester called attention to the community fair at Frost the latter part of September, and the celebration at Mexia Tuesday afternoon.

Among those attending the meeting were E. M. Polk, J. E. Butler, J. N. Edens, B. H. Jester, Ted Ferguson, C. L. Jester, W. O. Harwell, N. C. J. M. Dyer, Sr. and Joe B. Fortson.

WALKER SUCCEEDS ROBISON IN OFFICE LAND COMMISSIONER

AUSTIN, Sept. 11.—(AP)—J. H. Walker, chief clerk of the general land office, was appointed commissioner to succeed the late J. T. Robison, by Governor Moody today.

Mr. Walker had served as chief clerk of the land office for 21 years.

STRONG GAS FLOW IN TWO OLD WELLS IN POWELL SECTOR

Considerable gas pressure encountered while cleaning out two old shallow wells on the McMann Oil company lease in the Powell area has resulted in the old producers being used for commercial gas, according to reports received in Corsicana recently.

The wells were a part of the shallow tests drilled several years ago, that have been on the pump steadily. Workmen were engaged in cleaning out the wells when the gas blew out. No estimate as to the amount of gas found could be obtained Wednesday afternoon.

Jim Estes of the Roane community spent several hours here today on business.

WIDOW AND MOTHER,
PARALYZED SINCE CHILDHOOD, HELD

HOUSTON, Sept. 11.—(AP)—A forty eight year old widow and mother, paralyzed from the waist down since childhood, was brought to federal court here today in an ambulance for a preliminary hearing on a liquor charge.

Federal officers said they had raided her house a number of times and found her dispensing intoxicants from her wheel chair.

As the woman, Mrs. Jenny Atterbury, was lifted from the stretcher to her invalid's chair in the courtroom, her eight-year-old son whom she had supported with her alleged ill-potter returns, rushed up and clasped his mother about the neck.

The child remained beside her as the woman calmly faced Winston McMahon, United States commissioner, and pleaded not guilty. She was bound over to the federal grand jury under $500 bail.

FLOWERS, SHRUBS AND TREES

FALL TRANSPLANTING
By D. Victor Lundberg
(U. S. Department of Agriculture)
Woody plants can be transplanted in the fall frequently with better results than in the spring.

There is, however, a minority which advocates spring transplanting exclusively in the states where severe weather is experienced during the winter; but there are many reports of successful fall transplanting in our most northern regions.

The secret of moving trees and shrubs in the fall is that this work should be performed as soon as the current year's growth of wood has hardened.

It is vital that the newly set plants should establish themselves before cold weather arrives. This establishment is brought about by the growth of new feeding roots.

The most suitable condition to promote root growth are a warm soil and cool atmosphere—bottom heat, as it is termed by plant propagators. Such a condition exists during the fall months. Furthermore, fall rains furnish abundant moisture to provide another requirement for successful transplanting.

Falling leaves on deciduous plants are indicators of hardened growth, but as a matter of fact the growth has matured sufficiently to permit transplanting sometimes previous to this. As soon as the nights become definitely cool and the moisture in the soil is sufficient, general transplanting is in order.

Adequate moisture through the first fall and winter is essential to newly transplanted material. If the rainfall should be scant after transplanting, water the plants. Evergreens especially must go into the winter with the soil well supplied with moisture not only just after they have been transplanted but also after they have become established.

Roots of plants must be kept from drying out while they are being moved. Avoid exposing roots to sun and wind by keeping moist burlap or similar material handy to protect them, even if they are out of the ground but a brief interval.

In cold climates and in soils where the frost is apt to leave newly set plants place a mulch of straw manure on the ground around the base of such material just after the ground freezes. Fro-vide stakes or guys to avoid injury to plants placed in positions exposed to heavy winds.

WAGGONER ADMITS HE PLANNED DEAL TO SECURE FUNDS

SAYS HE DID IT TO PROTECT DEPOSITORS IN HIS BANK; TAKES ALL BLAME

NEWCASTLE, Wyo., Sept. 11. (AP)—C. D. Waggoner, president of the Bank of Telluride, Colo., arrested here in connection with the transaction by which he obtained $500,000 credit from New York banks on unauthorized telegraphic orders from six Denver banks, said today he engineered the deal in the hope of protecting depositors of his bank in Telluride.

"I knew exactly what I was doing," said Waggoner. "There is no one to blame but myself. I was the one who sent the fake telegrams out of Denver to the six New York correspondent banks, and neither my wife, my family, nor any of the officials of the bank had any connection with the transaction."

Desperate Move Necessary

"The bottom had dropped out of things in Telluride, and a desperate move was necessary. At one time the bank had deposits of $1,750,000. Then conditions in the town went from bad to worse. I wanted to get some money and put it in the Telluride bank so that the banks of New York couldn't possibly get it back."

Waggoner said he was thinking only of the creditors of his bank when he planned the transaction and that he knew he had nothing to gain and everything to lose. "I would rather lose the New York banks' money than the people of Telluride, most of whom had worked all their lives for the savings that were deposited in my bank," the banker said.

"As a matter of fact I was really glad the officers arrested me. I suppose I shall go to jail for the rest of my life. I don't know whether I shall even hire a lawyer when I get to Denver."

NEW CASTLE, Wyo., Sept. 11. (AP)—C. D. Waggoner, president of the Bank of Telluride, Colo., sought in connection with the manipulations involving $500,000, was in jail here today.

The banker was arrested last night at a tourist camp north of here where he had registered under his own name. He said he had made no attempt to conceal his identity and was driving his own motor car.

Sheriff Carl Howell said Waggoner admitted the coup by which six New York banks, after receiving telegraphic orders from Denver, deposited $500,000 to his credit in the Chase National Bank of New York, but refused to discuss the motive behind the transaction.

Waggoner declared he had thought out the whole scheme carefully ahead of time, and insisted that neither he nor the bank officials advanced the theory Waggoner manipulated to pay off deposits in his bank, closed last week following the disclosure and the announcement that Waggoner was missing.

Several Subpoenaed. NEW YORK, Sept. 11. (AP)—The United States attorney's office here today issued several subpoenas for the appearance before the grand jury of a "number of persons" who are believed to have aided Charles D. Waggoner to defraud six New York banks out of $500,000.

Among the subpoenaed were ones for Grant McFerson, state banking commissioner of Colorado; C. E. Downton, cashier of the bank of Telluride, Colo., and an 18-year-old employee of the bank, whose name was not disclosed.

Postal Official Denies Mail Holdup

WASHINGTON, Sept. 11. (AP)—Acting Chief Inspector Zimmerman of the postoffice department said today no authority had been given the Denver postoffice or any other postoffice to intercept mail destined for the Telluride, Colo., bank in connection with the financial transactions of its president, C. D. Waggoner.

Zimmerman said there was no evidence the Telluride bank had violated any postal law and that until such evidence was produced there was no authority for anyone to intercept mail addressed to it.

Colorado authorities and New York authorities are both seeking collateral which a New York bank mailed to the Telluride bank after Waggoner had obtained funds from it.

Zimmerman later was informed today that all mail addressed to the Telluride bank was being delivered to the state bank examiner, who has been placed in charge of the institution.

There is a possibility, however, he said, the registered package from the New York bank containing $270,000 worth of collateral and sent by registered mail may not have been delivered yet and if so it is still the property of the sender under the law.

He said he had received through the postmaster general's office protest from both Senator Waterman and Phipps of Colorado concerning a report which became prevalent in Denver that mail addressed to the Telluride bank was being held.

Detectives Deny Banker's Statements

DENVER, Sept. 11. (AP)—Although C. D. Waggoner, after his arrest at New Castle, Wyo., claimed he engineered single handed the entire transaction whereby he obtained certified drafts from New York banks for half a million dollars on false telegrams sent from Denver, officers here declared this would have been impossible.

The telegrams were sent from Denver Friday noon August 30, and the next day Waggoner appeared in New York and obtained the certified drafts from the Chase National Bank.

Leonard Delus of the Delus Secret Service, who had been making investigations in Denver in behalf of the banks, said today five or six persons had been implicated.

JUDGE RULES ON NAME FOR CHILD, BUT NOT FATHER

SPOKANE, Wash., Sept. 10. (AP)—A 24 year old boy who had been without a surname since birth because of a dispute as to his paternity today bore the name of George William Frenger as the result of a court decision.

In fixing the name Judge Fred Witt declared he could not determine whether the boy was the son of George William Bentley or Henry Frenger, but that since the mother was legally married to the latter at the time of the child's birth, his name should be Frenger.

Both Bentley and Frenger had been married to the same woman, and both claimed the boy after her death. Judge Witt held that since the marriage to Frenger had been the prior one, the ceremony through which the child's mother and Bentley went in 1924 had been illegal.

Evidence introduced at the trial indicated the woman had been known here as Mrs. Frenger, and that in Wallace Idaho, 79 miles distant, she had been known as Mrs. Bentley. The evidence showed the woman kept up a dual existence for the four years.

CASE OF ALLEGED SHIPBUILDERS AGENT ATTRACTS ATTENTION

WM. B. SHEARER ALLEGES HE GOT INFORMATION FROM NAVY DEPT.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 10. (AP)—President Hoover said today the use of propaganda to thwart the administration's naval limitations program was "so obviously evident" to require a sifting of the matter to the bottom.

His view was disclosed at about the hour the senate naval committee voted to investigate activities of American shipbuilding corporations in connection with naval limitations conferences. The inquiry was decided upon after Senator Borah, Republican, Idaho, told the committee he regarded the work done by William B. Shearer, self-styled big navy propagandist, for the shipbuilders at Geneva as amounting to "criminal conspiracy against the interests of the people of the United States and the government."

"Here are private corporations," Borah said, "engaging in building ships and intercepting the number of ships the government might build, employing men secretly to break down a conference for naval limitations. That is nothing less than scandalous."

The naval committee will meet again Thursday by which time the senate is expected to have approved the inquiry. Chairman Hale and Borah believe representatives of shipbuilding corporations, Shearer and high naval officers will be called to testify.

At the White House, the president's statement was issued after a letter from E. G. Grace, president of the Bethlehem Steel Corporation, had been made public. In this Grace wrote Shearer had been engaged as an observer but that his services had been discontinued as soon as the company learned he was a propagandist attempting to influence the naval and military policies of the United States government.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 10. (AP)—The senate naval committee today voted for an investigation of activities by American shipbuilding corporations in connection with international naval limitations conferences.

The committee's decision must be approved by the senate. A resolution to authorize the inquiry was expected to be offered by Senator Borah, Republican, Idaho, who first called upon the committee to inquire into statements by William B. Shearer, big navy advocate, that he was employed by shipbuilding corporations to represent them at the unsuccessful 1927 Geneva conference.

Another meeting of the committee was called for Thursday by which time it was expected the senate would have authorized the inquiry. Chairman Hale of the committee said he expected Shearer would be the first witness called.
